Robert Magidoff (above), Moscow correspondent for the National Broadcasting Company, was accused by his former secretary, Cecilia Nelson, of using his position in Moscow to collect information for an American espionage system. Miss Nelson, a native of Michigan, said Magidoff had been sending intelligence reports in U.S. diplomatic pouches.

16 Nations, West Zones in Germany Sign Cooperation

Permanent Organization Is Established by Those Taking Part in Aid Program

Paris, April 16 (AP)—Sixteen nations and Germany's western zones unanimously adopted today a convention binding themselves into a permanent European organization of economic cooperation.

The nations are those taking part in the European recovery program or Marshall plan. The organization is to assure efficient use of the $5,300,000,000 the United States has pledged in the program.

The 28-article, 3,000-word convention was adopted and signed at a conference of foreign ministers and others in the French foreign ministry.

A strong and prosperous European economy, says the preamble, "will contribute to the maintenance of peace."

The chairman, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, put the charter to the delegates at 12:25 p. m. There were no objections, so he declared it adopted officially. Annexes and protocols also were adopted.

The delegates then attached their signatures. The first signer was Austrian Foreign Minister Karl Gruber. The last was Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor for Germany and representative of the British and American zones.

The meeting opened in the clock room and moved to the adjoining hall of peace for the signing.

In closing it, Bevin declared "the structure of the new organization is one which leaves room for development and for expansion to include all European countries who will genuinely subscribe to the aim of the organization."

Before the morning meeting adjourned, the conference unanimously adopted a resolution to send thanks to the U. S. for its "generous response in assisting Europe in its present critical state."

This was proposed by Irish Foreign Minister Seán MacBride.

Suggestion Approved
The delegates approved Bevin's suggestion that they reconvene in a closed meeting at 5 p. m. (11 a. m., E.S.T.). Their deputies are to meet 45 minutes earlier to prepare this afternoon's agenda.

This will include choosing a secretary general, two assistants and other officials and selecting a permanent headquarters for the organization.

The document names those contracting powers: Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, The Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, and the French, British and American zones of Germany.

They agree to try to get back on their economic feet as quickly as possible in order to be able eventually to dispense "with any foreign aid of an exceptional character."

They promise to "augment their production, develop and modernize their industrial and agricultural equipment, increase their exchanges, reduce progressively barriers to mutual trade, encourage full employment of their manpower."

They recognize "the generous intention of the American people" in supplying the dollars with which they hope to meet their needs.

The charter specifies they "shall be able to call upon the manpower available in the territory of every other contracting party," since, for example, Italy has a labor surplus and France a shortage.

They provide for "organs of inspection and supervision" to be set up.

President Dies

Philippines' Population Is Stunned by Death; Wife Meets Train

By SPENCER DAVIS
Manila, April 16 (AP)—The flag-draped body of Manuel Roxas was brought back today to this sorrowing capital of the young Philippine Republic he served as president.

The capital, stunned by the 56-year-old Roxas' unexpected death from a heart attack at Clark Field last night, awaited the arrival of his successor, Vice President Elpidio Quirino, 57.

Quirino, himself ailing and under a physician's care for high blood pressure, was expected to return by tomorrow morning after breaking off a tour of the central Philippines.

Quirino by radio called a session of the council of state, which consists of cabinet members, former President Sergio Osmeña and former Justice Jose Yulo. He asked it to meet as soon as he arrives.

Secretary of Commerce Placido Mapa told reporters Roxas had been stricken while on a tour of the Philippines.

Next President to Get Big Financial Headache

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The government's biggest budget surplus in history has passed its peak and started downhill.

Administration analysts who reported this today predicted privately that the next president—Democrat or Republican—will confront a king-size financial headache.

They say the reason is the delayed impact to be felt from the plan for the first time in 47 years. They say the only things that could prevent that are higher taxes or less spending.

Congress has trimmed some items in the $39,700,000,000 spending program President Truman proposed in January. But it also has added some new outlays and is considering others.

Among the extras Congress has voted are a $150,000,000 boost in subsistence pay for veterans in college, and $150,000,000 more for foreign aid authorized along with the European Recovery Program.

Also counted as an increased outlay next year is $500,000,000 for refunds expected to result from the income tax cut.

However, the big item which will swell not only next year's budget but also for the following years, is military expenditures.

O'Reilly, Canfield Establishments Are Entered in Night

At least $3,000 worth of cameras, fountain pens and pencils was stolen from the store of William O'Reilly, Inc., at 530 Broadway sometime last night or early this morning, William J. O'Reilly, president of the corporation, said today.

Local police and detectives are investigating the theft, but have reported no clues as to the identity of the person or persons who apparently entered the store through a skylight on the roof and escaped through a window on the second floor, Acting Police Chief Raymond Van Buren said early this afternoon.

The burglary was discovered about 6:50 a. m. today by Daniel Lammon of 31 Shufeldt street, a bookkeeper employed by that corporation who arrived at that time to open the store for business. O'Reilly said. Lammon immediately telephoned the police.

Canfield's Also Entered
Also entered during the night was the warehouse and store of the Canfield Supply Company, adjoining the O'Reilly store.

William C. Kingman, treasurer of that company, reported the cash register had been pried open and a small sum, about $2, removed. None of the merchandise was bothered in the Canfield store, he said.

The time of the burglaries has not been definitely determined by police. An employee of the O'Reilly store was present about 8 p. m. and noticed nothing disturbed at that time, O'Reilly said.

The Dallas Hot Weiner restaurant at 328a Broadway remained open until about 1:30 a. m. today, with none of the employees more reporting any suspicious activity.

The unknown burglars apparently knew what they were after, taking only cameras and fountain pens and pencils from the O'Reilly store. No cash was taken, O'Reilly said, and the thieves passed up such other items as merchandise as portable typewriters.

Entrance to the Canfield Supply Company was made through a cellar window in the warehouse section which opens on a court off Dederick street, Kingman believes.

This warehouse section is directly behind and adjoining the O'Reilly store.

The theory held by employees of the two burglarized places is that the men entered the rear of the Canfield building, thinking it was closed.

U.S. to Send New Troops To Alaska

'Summer Training' Is to Be Linked With Air Units; to Leave Soon

To Build Garrison

Permanent Force to Be 15,000; Strange Acts Are Denied

Washington, April 16 (AP)—The army, without a single combat foot soldier in Alaska today, is borrowing from its mobile reserve to build up the garrison in that northern outpost next door to Russia.

Anti-aircraft and other ground combat units from the west coast and Hawaii will leave for Alaska shortly "to undergo summer training in conjunction with air units," the army said.

The effect of this "summer training" will be to bolster the present 7,000-man force now there pending action in Congress on the proposal of Gen. Omar Bradley, army chief of staff, to expand the permanent garrison to 15,000.

The number of troops to be borrowed from the Hawaiian command and from the 2nd Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash., was not disclosed. The army announcement last night said only that they would establish a "balance" between air and ground forces in Alaska.

The 2nd Division is part of the small mobile reserve of some 54,000 troops upon whom the United States counts to bolster overseas forces in event of a sudden emergency.

The Hawaiian command is not considered part of the mobile reserve, but defense for the islands. Troops sent from there for training in Alaska are expected to be anti-aircraft personnel.

The army's admission that it has no combat troops in the Alaskan command was by implication.

In announcing the training assignment, the army statement commented that "at present about 60 per cent of the garrison is air and the remainder army service troops." Service troops are personnel whose job is to maintain installations, handle supplies, load and unload cargo at ports—but not to fight.

Strange Things Denied
Meanwhile, both the air force and the Alaskan Army Command denied reports of strange doings in the territory. These reports included an assertion by Rep. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Me.) that Russian planes had "violated" Alaska by flying across the borders and a Kelchikan newspaper story that B-29's crashed near Nome last December had been hit by a Russian shell before it crashed.

The air force said: "None of its planes has crossed the border of Russia nor have there been any confirmed reports of Russian aircraft crossing the border of Alaska."

The B-29 which crashed on December 24 did so because of pilot error, mistaking a snowy hill for a cloud. There was no indication of any damage to the plane before the crash.

The military picture also had been hit by a Russian shell before it crashed.

Kingston Musicians to Give Concert; Subject to Be Musical Education

A lecture on the benefits of instrumental musical education in the public school system will be presented Thursday evening, May 13, in the Kingston High School Auditorium at 8 p. m. when Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, dean of American bandmasters and leader of the famous Goldman Band, will speak with the endorsement of a group of local organizations.

In conjunction with Dr. Goldman's lecture, the Kingston Musicians' Union Band will present a concert before and after the bandmaster's speech, and Dr. Goldman will appear as conductor of the local band for the final three selections.

This lecture and concert will be presented to all interested people without an admission charge, as both Dr. Goldman and the Union Band are donating their services for the occasion.

The idea for this lecture and concert originated with the Mothers' Club of School 5, Mrs. Henry P. Higney, president, said, and additional impetus was obtained when several private citizens became interested in the project. The endorsement of civic organizations was then sought, and in addition to the Mothers' Club of School 5, the Kingston Musicians' Union, the Kingston Lions Club, the Parent-Teachers Association of the Myron J. Nicholas School, the Y.W.C.A., the Kingston Rotary Club, the Kingston Kiwanis Club, the Musical Society and the Kingston High School.

Bixby Says Changes to Be Made Up to City Line; Bids for Thruway

A section of Route 32 leading through East Kingston from the city line will be widened and resurfaced in the near future, James S. Bixby, engineer of the highway division, New York State Department of Public Works at Poughkeepsie said today.

The engineer also reported that the department hopes to advertise for bids "within the next two or three months" for construction of the State Thruway from the Green county line to a point south of Saugerties.

Meanwhile, the engineer said, work is still in progress on a study of arterial route surveys made in 13 cities including Kingston, and no report on this city is expected for six months or a year yet.

Department approval has been received on the widening and resurfacing project on the section of Route 32 north of the city for four and a half miles. The work is to be done by contract and it is expected that the department will advertise for bids within the next 60 days.

The section to be widened and resurfaced extends from Flatbush avenue to a point beyond East Kingston.

Perez Pleads Innocent
New York, April 16 (AP)—Julio Ramirez Perez today pleaded innocent to an indictment charging him with the stabbing-strangulation death of Mrs. Vera Lottito last March 30. The 32-year-old prisoner made his plea in General Sessions Court without a show of emotion. A plea of innocent is required in a first degree murder indictment. Perez was arrested by police after a struggle outside a pawnshop where he appeared with a fur coat belonging to Mrs. Lottito. The 36-year-old bride of a few months was slain in her midtown apartment a few days earlier.

Called 'Carpet Bagger'
Los Angeles, April 16 (AP)—"Carpet bagger," was the label tagged today by a disgruntled Democrat on James Roosevelt, City Councilman Ed J. Davenport, announcing to a Democratic luncheon club that he was switching his registration to Republican, asserted: "Roosevelt was named chairman of the California Democratic Central Committee almost before his bag was unpacked in 1946." Besides, Davenport added, "the Democrats are bewildered, shifting, drifting and splintering."

Also Asks Why Parley Was Slated

Brown Asks Answers to Questions Why Marshall Went Ahead With Plans

Trouble 'Is Seen'

Double Warning Given to Congress U. S. May Face Trouble

Washington, April 16 (AP)—An open warning and a guarded hint that Colombia's blood-spattered revolt pattern may be used in the United States spurred a congressional committee today to dig deeper for facts.

For one thing, the lawmakers want a complete explanation of why the State Department went ahead with the Pan-American conference at Bogota despite definite word that the Communists were plotting trouble there.

The department itself said Secretary Marshall scornfully rejected any notion that "a handful of Communists" could intimidate the American republics.

But Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio), saw the situation in a different light.

"Why," he asked, "did they (department officials) go blindly into this conference knowing there might be trouble? Why did they permit themselves and the country to be put in a ticklish position?"

Brown said he wants the answers to the questions and will try to get them at hearings to be set later.

He is the chairman of a House committee set up to look into the background of the destructive Bogota uprising—particularly to learn whether this country's central intelligence agency had warned Marshall there might be trouble in the Colombian capital.

Yesterday's hearing brought evidence of a number of such warnings. Afterwards the State Department volunteered that it had been fully aware of the situation itself and that Marshall had commented "sally" the American republics were not going to be intimidated by Communists or anybody else.

But the thing that stood out in sharp focus was the double admonition in Congress that trouble may be ahead in this country.

First Rear Adm. R. H. Hillemeier, head of the C.I.A., told Brown's committee that "conditions in Colombia are similar to those in the United States except that they are advanced a couple of years."

Hillemeier said Jorge Gaitan, the Colombian liberal leader whose assassination touched off the revolution, was a figure "like Henry Wallace in our country—a man who played along with the extreme left and the Communists."

Wallace was not immediately available for comment. But C. B. Baldwin, his third party campaign manager, called Hillemeier's assertion "contemptible."

"When an assistant to Secretary Marshall, even though he is another military man, joins the chorus of 'baldwin' said in a statement, 'it demonstrates that the State Department is following the Truman-Forrestal-Parnell Thomas line of smearing all opposition.'"

The second warning in Congress came from one of its own members.

Rep. Donald L. Jackson (R-Calif.), an observer for Congress who flew back from the Bogota conference to report to his colleagues, declared:

"The uprising in Bogota was not something that just happened. It represents additional stitches in the cloth of violence."

"It can and will happen in New York, Chicago and San Francisco unless the march of Communism is halted."

"The Red tide has touched the shores of the Western Hemisphere."

Asks Law Be Passed
Jackson said Congress should pass a law to curb Communism.

In his testimony before Brown's committee, Hillemeier said one report from C.I.A. agents in Colombia was withheld from the department at the request of its own advance agent in Bogota, O. J. Liberty, who did not want to "alarm delegates unduly."

This message, received a week before the conference started, said information had been confirmed.

Troopers Play Part In Rushing Blood To Save Woman

Prattville Resident, 24, Received Transfusions After Calls to New York

Catskill, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—Two quarts of RH negative blood rushed here from New York today apparently saved the life of a woman who underwent a serious operation during the night.

The rare blood from Post-Graduate Hospital, New York, and police put two pints aboard a New York Central train. State police intercepted the train, which was later sent to Memorial Hospital.

A second package of two additional pints was placed aboard a later train and carried to the hospital by state police.

Dr. Wax said the patient, whom he declined to name, was in "good" condition after the transfusion.

She was identified by other sources as Mrs. Hilda Kane, 24, of Prattville.

Lack of Interest Shown in Rally to Hit Communism

That those purporting to favor the democratic way of life are less demonstrative than followers of Communism was manifested at last night's meeting called by the Ulster County American Legion to make plans for an Americanism rally next month.

Less than a dozen representatives of local organizations attended the session in the rooms of the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency on Main street to take part in formulating plans for the rally, scheduled Saturday night, May 1, in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium.

Local Chairman John R. Mayone, a presser himself and disappointed with the small attendance as he read a list of civic, fraternal, religious and veterans' organizations invited to send delegates to the meeting.

Despite the handful, he made the plans for the demonstration the purpose of which is to stifle efforts of communists to mislead people who doubt the doctrines of Red Russia, while they enjoy all the benefits and freedom of the American way of life.

According to the present schedule, the Kingston High School band will play patriotic airs from

Area Health Work Told to Kiwanis By Local Director

The work of the public health nurse was outlined by Miss Adele Didrickson, director of public health nursing in Ulster county, in a speech before members of the Kingston Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon.

Following the talk, President William Leehive presented Howard R. St. John of 56 Lindermah avenue with a framed certificate honoring him on the completion of 25 years as a member of Kiwanis.

The members present unanimously approved a recent resolution of the board of directors appropriating $500 to send President Leehive as a delegate to the Kiwanis International convention at Los Angeles, June 6 to 10.

The main objective of the current Public Health Nursing Week, Miss Didrickson told those present, is to "inform the public about what the public health nurse has to do."

One question often asked, she said, is why these nurses need special training. She explained that a public health nurse does not have the benefits of the hospital nurse, who works under the supervision of doctors and interns.

"The public health nurse often covers isolated homes in rural areas, and she must know how to handle emergencies," Miss Didrickson said.

Much of the work of these nurses is in the field of preventive measures, the speaker said. The County Health Department works with such organizations as the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association in investigating cases of communicable diseases to "round up" all those who have come in contact with a diseased person and persuade them to be examined and treated, if necessary.

Care of expectant mothers, orthopedic treatment of children, the control of cancer and venereal diseases are other duties of the public health nurse, she said.

Miss Didrickson predicted that her department will be able to do much more in the early treatment of cancer once the proposed tumor clinic is completed. She termed cancer "one of the biggest problems in Ulster county today."

Public health nursing service is free, confidential, and available to everyone, "rich or poor, black or white," Miss Didrickson emphasized.

Beef Slaughtering

Ithaca, N. Y., J. B. Teeter, Cornell butcher, and H. H. Holley, meat department, demonstrated beef slaughtering from hoof to carcass by actually doing the entire job before a Farm and Home Week crowd recently in the judging pavilion. Sanitary methods, thorough bleeding, and skillful skinning were shown by Mr. Teeter, with a lifetime of experience in the meat industry. Prof. G. H. Wellington discussed feeding and care before slaughter, prompt chilling of the carcass, and aging to give the best meat with least loss.

Later, in the meat cutting laboratory, Mr. Holley and assistants gave a cutting demonstration of wholesale and retail cuts of beef.

Atomic Energy Employed At New York Cancer Center

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, April 16 (AP)—The world's greatest cancer center opened here today, with news of a new use of atomic energy that may help cancer.

The atomic discovery also looks good for all the infectious diseases of man.

Opening today is the Sloan-Kettering Institute for cancer research, a $500,000 four-story research building with nearly three acres of floor space. This research center is linked by corridors with Memorial Hospital, the first cancer hospital in the world, with the Strang prevention and detection clinic. It also will be linked to New York city's new cancer institute, the James Ewing Hospital, soon to go up alongside the other institutions.

The research building was built and its work supported by a gift from Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of General Motors. Today's opening was an all day and evening meeting of distinguished physicians and other scientists, who saw and discussed some new things in cancer that already have started at the Sloan-Kettering Institute. Work there began last December.

The atomic discovery is that radioactive atoms can be hooked onto the antibodies which are man's natural defenses against diseases. An antibody is a protein molecule. Little is known about these things, except that each disease produces its own antibody that is useless to fight any other kind of disease, but very good medicine for the one disease.

Talks of Discovery

Dr. C. P. Rhoads, director of the new institute and of the entire center, told about the atomic energy discovery. This was made by Dr. David Pressman and Geoffrey Kelgley, recently at the California Institute of Technology. Dr.

Pressman, now at the Sloan-Kettering Institute, is starting to learn whether a "hot antibody" can be used in cancer.

Dr. Pressman minced some rat kidney, and injected it into a rabbit, whose blood thereupon produced antibodies. The latter were antagonistic only to rat kidneys.

This kind of antagonism of antibodies has been known for a long time. But for the first time, Dr. Pressman hooked a radioactive atom, iodine from the Oak Ridge atomic ovens, to the rat kidney antibody.

This radioactive iodine showed that the rat kidney antibody when injected into the rat, went almost entirely to the animal's kidney. The radioactive iodine was strong enough to burn away the entire kidney.

This opens the way to possibly sending hot radioactive atoms into the body to concentrate in cancers and burn them out.

Antibodies against cancers can be made by much the same methods as the rat kidney antibodies. It is known also that such cancer antibodies tended to collect in the malignant tissues.

Hot iodine atoms hooked to cancer antibodies will do two things.

One, show whether the cancer-fighting molecules concentrate in the cancers. Two, burn the cancer out, provided the concentration is enough. This method is like a double-barreled shot-gun. The antibodies are one barrel, putting a weak restraint on cancer. The hot atoms are the other barrel, and they are really powerful slugs. For the antibodies of other diseases, the hot atoms should advance the new science of immunizing people against diseases of all kinds.

Seven Men Questioned By Greeks in Rhodes

Athens, April 16 (AP)—The U. S. Embassy announced today that seven men claiming American citizenship are being questioned by Greek authorities in Rhodes after arriving there in four airplanes. Embassy officials said their information is that the seven are crewmen of four twin-engine planes, believed to be British-made Ansons. They were quoted as saying they were flying from southern France to Singapore. The planes, they said, are to be delivered to Australian pilots in Singapore for spraying purposes. One plane had an Australian flag painted on it. All were radio equipped.

The embassy said the men identified themselves as:

Work Accidents Show Decrease in N. Y. State

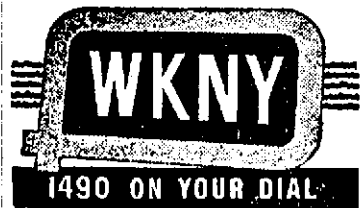

New York, April 16 (AP)—Work accidents in New York state dropped more than 3,000 in the first quarter of 1948 as compared with 1947 figures.

The figures were given yesterday by the state Workmen's Compensation board.

Miss Mary Donlon, chairman, said 183,016 work injuries were reported throughout the state during the first three months of this year.

However, New York city had an increase of about 1,200 industrial accidents in 1948, Miss Donlon said.

Townsend Mass Meeting Speakers

CONGRESSMAN HALL

Congressman Edwin A. Hall of Binghamton, representing the 37th Congressional District and Herbert F. Haren, national promotional director of the Townsend organization of Cleveland, Ohio, will be the speakers at a Townsend mass meeting to be held in Mechanics Hall, 14 Henry street on Sunday afternoon, April 18. The program is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock with Miss Mildred Niles, president of the local club and deputy for the Hudson Valley Townsend Club, presiding.

Congressman Hall is an ardent supporter of the Townsend Bill, pending in Congress and will speak at the Townsend National Convention to be held in Washington, D. C., June 2 to 6.

Mr. Haren will present the national picture for the necessity for age aid and assistance for persons incapacitated of all ages. The Townsend Bill advocates a higher scale than the security laws now in effect.

All Townsendites, friends of the movement and the general public are invited to attend the meeting.

the German people for unanimity on restoration of the country's unification has not been fulfilled and that Germany now stands in danger of permanent partition.

"Therefore, we call upon the whole German people that the primary democratic right of self determination shall be safeguarded for them. We call upon all Germans to decide for themselves in a plebiscite on the vital question of their survival."

The Communists plan to circulate petitions next month asking for a plebiscite on the question of setting up an "indivisible" republic on the Weimar pattern.

(Germany was organized as a republic under a constitution given by a national assembly at Weimar, August 11, 1919, on the basis of sovereignty of the people and of recognition of the rights of constituent lands or states.)

Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany, was understood today to have returned to Berlin after a week's absence. There was speculation he had been in Moscow to receive new instructions, but Russian officials refused comment.

German Reds Ask All Countryfolk To Join Plebiscite

Russian-Backed Group
Go Over Heads of Western Powers
With Appeal

Berlin, April 16 (AP)—Russian-backed German Communists went over the heads of the western powers today with a direct appeal to all Germans to join their plebiscite on German unification.

The appeal was broadcast over the Soviet-controlled Berlin radio by the pro-Communist "German Peoples Council," which has proclaimed its aim to succeed the Allied Control Council as the governing body of Germany.

The Communists' appeal came only two days after they announced they had notified American, British and French military governors they would seek a referendum on German unification.

The office of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor, said yesterday it had received no such notification.

The Communist headmost was regarded by western authorities as a direct snub to the U. S., Britain and France, who barred the Peoples Council and its parent organization, the Communist "German Peoples Congress," from their occupation zones as falsely claiming to represent all classes of Germans.

One Recognition Only

The Peoples Council and Congress are recognized only in the Russian zone. The Council, which convened in Berlin yesterday, called on Germans in all zones to rally for the unification of Germany.

"We point out," radio Berlin quoted the Council, "that under the occupying powers the hope of

SECURITY LOAN DRIVE

"America's Security Is Your Security" is the national slogan for the U. S. Savings Bond drive which will be held through June 30.

Purposes of the drive are to induce citizens to reaffirm their faith in the American way of life by becoming shareholders through bond purchases in the greatest free enterprise on earth, the United States of America; to aid in the stabilization of the national economy by siphoning money from the spending stream into non-inflationary government securities; to spread the national debt from bank holdings, which is potentially inflationary, to holdings by individuals, which is non-inflationary; to further inculcate habits of thrift in the American people.

Joseph H. Dore, president, American Bankers' Association, says that in the past two and a half years, because of various official positions abroad, he has had many contacts with the representatives of Soviet Russia and has had an opportunity to observe closely and directly the working of the Soviet mind on the diplomatic, military and economic levels. He says that the Soviet government officials have been convinced that the people of the United States will not support their government in times of peace as they have in times of war. Also, they have been convinced that our economy will have an inflation and an economic collapse which will effectively destroy our strength, remove us as a powerful factor in the international scene, and leave the Soviet unopposed in their apparent designs for further aggression on the free peoples of other nations.

For this and other related reasons, this bond selling drive is, in his opinion a Security Campaign in more than one sense. Its success means added security to the financial status of the individual who accumulates the bonds. It means added security to the economy in modifying the forces of inflation and in supporting its future with reserve purchasing power. It means added security to the nation in maintaining its stability while attempting to assist in meeting the complicated economic problems of other countries. And, finally, it can prove to the world that the people of the United States can and will voluntarily discipline themselves for the good of their country in these critical times of a troublesome, unstable peace as well as in times of war.

ANOTHER CAMPUS CASUALTY

A Montana State College student, married, a father, and a veteran of 36 air combat missions, was killed by a college employee in an incident growing out of a campus society initiation. This is only one of many tragedies connected with collegiate pranks which are part of our academic history. But the circumstances make it particularly regrettable.

We aren't against fun. But it would seem, with a more mature student body in America's colleges, that this would be a good time to curb the senseless, dangerous excesses of hazing and initiation in favor of a little more concentration on the serious business of education in a serious world.

FIRE PREVENTION

Any long range fire prevention program which will get results must include educational work in the school systems. Traffic safety instruction is part of the curricula of most modern schools. Fire safety is equally important.

The work should begin in the early grammar school grades, and be carried on to the university level. In many instances, it could be profitably and interestingly combined with other instruction. It is susceptible to dramatization. It could be varied from season to season. For the Fourth of July, as an example, the dangers inherent in improper use of fireworks, and the fire carelessness of picnickers and campers could be stressed.

The basic attitudes we carry through life become established at an early age. A child who has been given entertaining, intelligent instruction in fire hazards and their elimination

CANCER, HEART AND OLD AGE

In spite of all the billions that government collects in taxes, private charity grows more essential and more pressing every year. And as one's savings lessen because of taxes, it becomes increasingly more important to scrutinize carefully funds requesting contributions. The best pattern for giving is to set up a plan and, having determined how much one can devote to charity, after taxes, to divide the amount among the chosen charities. I personally prefer to avoid drives, saving their circulars until December when we are able to determine what we shall have to give. Others prefer to give during drives. The important thing is to give and to give wisely.

In my own thinking, I prefer to avoid two categories of funds:

1. Those organizations which year after year undertake huge, well-publicized, heavily advertised drives and which possess enormous reserves that they cannot reasonably expend during the next two or three years. The dead hand of unused funds is not charity; it is business for administrators.
2. My taxes have contributed ample to foreign relief. UNRRA, ERP, the funds for UN come out of taxes—mine and yours. Therefore, I shall contribute nothing to foreign relief except for children and education. I shall not contribute to omnibus funds which combine foreign relief and funds for local organizations. Whereas foreign relief may arouse my emotions, I want to exercise independent judgment about local organizations. Sometimes when I look at these omnibus appeals, I discover among organizations which I can favor some that I regard as altogether disreputable. It is a matter of choice whether one wants to accept the bad with the good or to reject the good with the bad. The latter is my choice.

On the other hand, it seems to me that there are four causes that should have everybody's money. Cancer, heart, diabetes and old age need all the money that the American people can afford for them. It is difficult why there has been so little money for cancer, particularly cancer research, when so many are killed by it. And the same is true of the heart. Of course, these diseases and diabetes are generally due to the fact that we live so much longer than our ancestors did. We get the "After Fifty" diseases more numerous because more of us live to be 60 or 70. The heart wears out; the pancreas weakens; and those wild cells about which we know so little and need to know so much, appear. The wild cells we call cancer. They can become wild for any one of us—for me, for you, for our dearest. It causes to be charity to contribute for cancer research; it is insurance. What a Godsend it would be if someone found something like insulin for cancer. Of course, much is being done already and we are meeting more and more relatives and friends who have had cancer and have it no more. And we need to know more about the heart and particularly we need convalescent homes where cardiacs can rest their weary "pump" without being made worse by kindly but worrisome relatives and friends.

Then there are the old—the very old. What a tough end to life many of them face. Children and grandchildren mean to be kind but they do not understand. They often become less kind when the legs give way or the heart becomes troublesome, or the kidney stops functioning. But what children and grandchildren seem so seldom to recognize is that older people often are bored. They crave comrades their own age. They want to discuss the good world of 40 years ago. They are horrified by the truly disgusting manners of our teenagers, their curious future to associate living with responsibility. These oldsters often need to retreat to the comfort of associating with their own kind. There are many excellent places for this purpose, but not enough and some of them have too little money.

High taxes notwithstanding, private charity is still important in our lives and we ought to give to give freely and wisely. And, of course, private charity, up to a certain amount, still remains, an income tax deduction. (Copyright, 1948, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SKIN ALLERGY

It is only in recent years that we have become familiar with the word "allergy." Being allergic means the individual is susceptible or oversensitive to a substance taken in the usual amounts which is harmless to the majority of other people.

When we think of allergy, we may think, first, of hives (urticaria) and, secondly, of hay fever, colds or even stomach upsets. What many of us do not realize is that there are other irritations of the skin besides hives which are caused by allergy.

In "Medical Clinics of North America," Drs. Norman R. Ingraham, Jr., and Herman Beerman, University of Pennsylvania, state that allergy plays an important role in dermatology (diseases of the skin) as the sole cause or partial cause of various skin ailments.

Skin ailments caused by allergy fall into three broad classes: First, where the skin is irritated by coming in contact with the allergic substance, the degree or amount of irritation being found only on the layers of the skin exposed to the substance. This is now known as contact dermatitis. Thus, during the war when dyes were not as pure, much contact dermatitis was caused by dyes and other agents. Poison ivy is a typical example of contact dermatitis.

Secondly, allergy or sensitization may be caused through absorption of the allergic substance into the blood. The blood carries it to various parts of the body where it sets up symptoms. The absorption into the blood may be through the skin, lungs or stomach and intestines. Thus drug and food irritations causing hives, rashes, discolorations are examples of this second absorption type of dermatitis.

Thirdly is the well-known eczema-asthma-hay fever complex, which appears to be an inherited tendency. Dust, feathers, furs, foods, pollen of plants are the most common causes of the symptoms.

Most cases of skin allergy can be relieved if the patient first consults the family physician who, in stubborn cases, may refer the patient to an allergy specialist, an allergist.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Eureka, Kans., April 16—I have never met Mr. Stalin; but I have friends who have often talked with him. Some of them have been at the famous conferences attended by Mr. Stalin, Mr. Churchill, and Mr. Roosevelt. I, therefore, am using my column this week to answer certain inquiries coming to me. The conclusions are not pleasant.

Some Definitions

There are three different economic or social theories today. They are: (1) Capitalism. This is what is commonly known as the enterprise which has been so successful in the United States. (2) Fascism. This has been tried in Germany, Italy and Japan; it is a form of State capitalism where persons continue to own their property but use it as the state directs. (3) Communism. This is where there is no private ownership. Communism is Socialism with brutality added. One country could get on under either the Capitalistic System or Fascistic System by itself; but Communism or Socialism probably needs a world organization in order to make it work. At least, this is what Mr. Stalin thinks.

Stalin's Ultimate Goal
Therefore, Stalin's goal is to eliminate Capitalism. Anyone responsible for making a success of Communism would probably have the same aim as Stalin. The Labor government in England is gradually coming to this same conclusion. It is not ruthless like the Communists, but even their leaders believe that their success depends upon having the same program adopted by all other leading countries.

Therefore, it is possible that as soon as Russia gets the Atomic Bomb she may blow up the big cities of the United States. She may have no thought of landing troops here or of taking over our government. It would be only one step in her campaign of destroying Capitalism. Her hope would be that—with our big cities destroyed—a Socialistic System would be needed to operate our remaining industries. This would also eliminate undue competition from industries in communistic nations.

What Will the Communists Do?
If this is their program then, when the Russians get the Atomic Bomb, they may get their bombs planted, by their own friends, in the center of our big American cities.

It would be easy to get them over here in trucks, or in holes of goods. They could be smuggled across our borders in automobiles, trucks or airplanes without being detected by custom examiners. Then the Russian agents could deposit these in their boarding houses in our big cities until the time came to explode them at a certain moment on a certain day. Time clocks could be used so that the Russians would have time to get away. Thus all these cities could be destroyed at a certain set hour.

Of course, the Russians would expect that we would retaliate with our airplanes. On the other hand, how can we then prove that it is the Russian government, or the Spanish government, or the Argentine government that does the damage? Of course, the time would be selected when we are more or less in a row with all of these governments. Therefore, our big cities could completely be destroyed without our knowing for sure who destroyed them and certainly without our having been declared.

Final Result

What the final result would be nobody can foretell. With a dozen of our biggest cities destroyed, there would not be much hope for Capitalism for many years to come. Thus, the purpose of the Communists would have been attained. They might try to have a hand in the government of the United States; but it would then be taken over by the people of the smaller cities and rural communities, largely the people of our Central West. If my prophecies come about, which I hope they will not, it certainly means that the people of our Central West will someday have a great opportunity and responsibility. The question is are these peoples now preparing for such even though it may be a remote possibility?

Impending 70-Group Air Force for U. S. Means More Tankers, Supplies, Increased Manpower for Strategic Bases

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 16—Politics and military appropriations have become entangled in a peculiar way. Many members of Congress who would like to be spared the necessity of voting either for a revival of the draft or the universal military training program are being told that if they'll spend the same money for a 70-group air force, one or the other or maybe both of the proposals to mobilize the youth of the nation will not be needed.

The air force has played a skillful game. Its leader, Secretary Symington, has shrewdly taken advantage of a political situation on Capitol Hill. Despite the much-vaunted unification of the armed services and the need for one spokesman on appropriations, Mr. Symington simply ran around the end and outflanked his superior, Secretary of Defense Forrester. Thus, the so-called unification plan goes out the window and the air force—the original champion of the idea—is the first to break it down.

None of this pleases either the navy or the regular army but they are caught in a political dilemma from which neither President Truman nor Secretary Forrester seem able to extricate them. As a matter of fact, there is a powerful argument for a 70-group air force. It comes from those who think the best way to frighten Russia into submission is to authorize the spending of money for airplanes.

But this is only a superficial view of what must happen. The formation of a 70-group air force increases the need for more ships and tankers to carry gasoline and supplies to far-off bases. Likewise, it means increased manpower to capture and hold strategic bases. The wisest words that have been spoken in a long time on military strategy are credited to two members of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff. First, here is what General Spaatz, chief of the U. S. air force, said in an interview with the United Press at Beloit, Wis.: "We have not yet reached the point where we can carry out sustained bombing at great distances, and I don't know when we will. People who think they will be able to sit back in the next war and let military aircraft do the job are all wet. They had better square up their thinking with facts."

And this came from General Omar Bradley, chief of staff of the U. S. Army, in testimony before the House Armed Service Committee. "The only certain and safe guarantee against enemy air attack is to seize and hold the bases from which aircraft would fly. If we, as a result of weakness in land or naval strength, permit any enemy power to seize such bases as Alaska, Greenland, Iceland, Spitzbergen, or the Azores, then we shall have laid our industrial and population centers open to air attack. All the air forces and anti-aircraft artilleries of the world could not prevent it. Only troops actually occupying such bases could give us protection. Those troops are the army."

The navy chiefs would say much the same thing in holding that to transport men and supplies, submarines of the enemy must be destroyed and air attacks on convoys must be prevented by an adequate U. S. Navy.

So the administration, through Secretary of Defense Forrester, worked out a plan for a "balanced" army, navy and air force combination. It involved either 55 air groups for the air force (fully manned or 70 air groups partly manned). The emphasis on the 70 caught the imagination of the House of Representatives and Secretary Symington pushed his advantage, although it unbalances the plan worked out so carefully by the U. S. joint chiefs of staff at their recent meeting in Key West, Fla.

Either the political pressures of one armed service group as against another is going to run our national defense or the executive branch of the government and the U. S. joint chiefs of staff is going to do it. The public will watch with interest this amazing bit of play in Congress whereby the draft or universal military training are sacrificed to zeal for appropriations for planes. In the end, the other services will have to be built up to balance the 70-group air force plan. This will soon mean many more billions for the armament budget. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

Newspaper Ethics

By FRANK TRIPP

A committee of doctors diagnosed their own case and now have a bear by the tail. They tried self-medication for their public relations ills with dire results.

The row has to do with ethics. The groups involved are not all inclusive of either doctors or newsmen. They are sort of special groups of each who are having it out in an interview with their inner councils and trade press.

It all started when the National Physicians Committee "for extension of medical service" got a bright idea. It was a roundabout, impersonal way to conduct a country-wide publicity crusade against Socialized Medicine.

Time was when the mere suggestion that doctors craved publicity would have aroused the ridicule of Chartered trainees, would have rushed from advertising headquarters to any spot in the Mohave Desert if doctors would even discuss so unethical a device as publicity.

But this time the mountain went to Mohammed. With prizes and everything—and an idea that belongs in the soap business. They offered a thousand dollar prize to the cartoonist who would produce the best pictured argument against Socialized Medicine.

The men whose caricatures make millions think were insulted. That one grand could start a special riot which there was not the issue. Some of them drop that much on every trip to the bookies.

If the insult—"and methinks a tiny one," as Poe Bah did proclaim—had come from a professional less steeped in ethics, no doubt it would have received more than the daily offerings of average press agents.

The well-intentioned doctors, who declare so much on their side against public health care, put their foot right in it. They killed a bale of voluntary argument in their behalf and scared off top flight artists who might have gone all out for their cause if there had been no prize involved.

What the ethical knights of the stethoscope overlooked was that there also are such things as newspaper ethics. They, and you may never have heard of them but they do exist and, when they're stirred up, a hornet's nest is as docile as a puff ball in comparison.

You see, the offered prize amounted to a bribe, the cartoonists thought: an offer to buy the power of their art and the editorial space which their drawings occupy. Most editors and publishers agreed with them. They all said so, and the row was on.

Some editors who might be as anti-Socialized as the doctors' committee have even tabored the topic in their columns, lest their readers think their editorial attitude can be influenced

Brazilian Blast Is Regarded as Stage for Revolt

Explosion Is Fatal to 23; Intended to Kill da Costa, Police Declare

Rio de Janeiro, April 16 (AP)—Federal police declared today the explosion of an army arsenal, fatal to 23 persons, was intended as the beginning of a Communist plot for a "second Republic" here May 1.

The police said the Communists intended to kill the Brazilian war minister, Gen. Canabete Pereira da Costa, who left the vicinity of the arsenal depot 50 minutes before yesterday's blast.

The official account of the Costa was saved only by an unexplained delay in the explosion.

Police said they are sought in the explosion of the arsenal. The arsenal is estimated to contain 1,000 to 2,000.

Twenty-six Communists have been arrested so far, the police statement said, and "directly implicated" in the explosion. The plot was attributed to a high leader of the Communist party, which is outlawed in Brazil, Police withheld his name, but said his arrest was expected soon.

Seven women Communists were arrested for distributing Communist pamphlets immediately after the blast.

Authorities also became suspicious after hearing reports that a small airplane had flown over the area just before the first of five heavy explosions.

Police said unidentified persons in the Central Railway station had warned passengers earlier against boarding trains which would pass the military arsenal.

Damage was expected to exceed $1,000,000.

Walls crumbled for a mile around and many workers in nearby factories were injured.

Highest Living Costs Are in Poughkeepsie

New York, April 16 (AP)—New Yorkers paid 17 per cent more for food, 13 per cent more for clothes and two per cent more for housing last year than they did in 1946.

The figures were given by the State Labor Department yesterday in a report on a field survey last year in 11 cities of the state.

A working woman living with her parents or other relatives had to earn an average of $38.27 a week to support herself adequately, the department said—11 per cent higher than in 1946 and 50 per cent more than 10 years ago.

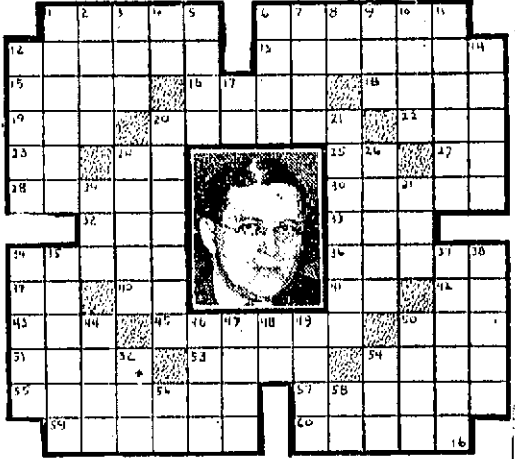

Highest living costs in the state for working women were found at Poughkeepsie, where an adequate salary was $2,024 a year. Lowest was $822 at Cuba, N. Y.

Will Open Mondays

Two Men Injured In Accident Near Highland Today

Two men riding in a light truck were injured early this morning when it left Route 299 in the hamlet of Centerville, town of Lloyd, and went down an embankment, according to the state police.

Robert Halstead and Curtis Craig, both of Highland were taken to Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and it was reported today that the amputation of a finger on the badly injured right hand of Craig may be necessary.

Halstead, who, it is believed, drove the truck, suffered lacerations of the face and head, the police said.

The accident happened at about 2 a. m. as the truck was headed toward New Paltz from Highland. It went off the road on the south side, according to State Trooper E. T. Johnson when the driver "apparently lost control."

Six Persons Hurt In City in March In Auto Accidents

Six persons were injured in as many automobile accidents in this city during the month of March, according to the regular monthly report of Acting Chief of Police Raymond Van Buren submitted to the police commissioners Thursday afternoon.

Of those injured, four were pedestrians, one was an occupant of an automobile, and the other was a child on a tricycle, the report stated. All injuries were reported by the chief as slight.

Chief Van Buren also reported that 61 persons were arrested in the city during March, of which 59 were men and two were women. Most numerous cause for arrest was public intoxication, with disorderly conduct accounting for the second largest number of arrests.

Advance-Design Trucks

are the only trucks with all these extra-value features of production leadership . . .

THE CAB THAT "BREATHES"

Only Advance-Design trucks have the cab that "breathes"! Fresh air—heated in cold weather—is drawn in and used air forced out.

FLEXI-MOUNTED CAB

Chevrolet's Advance-Design cab is mounted on rubber, cushioned against road shocks, torsion and vibration!

. . . including these great new HEAVY-DUTY features that only Advance-Design trucks offer:

Entirely new, Chevrolet-developed helical gear 4-SPEED SYNCHRO-MESH TRANSMISSIONS provide quicker, easier, quieter operation and greater durability in heavy-duty models. "Double clutching" and gear "clutching" are virtually eliminated. Faster shifting promotes greater road safety and the maintenance of speed and momentum on grades!

Chevrolet's new SPINED REAR AXLE SHAFT ATTACHMENT to wheel hubs eliminates breakage and loosening possible with bolt-type attachments—assures greater strength and durability in heavy hauling!

• Advance-Design truck bodies and cabs are Uni-Built—Chevrolet engineered and produced in the world's largest exclusive commercial body plant—to achieve maximum uniformity, durability and economy. . . Other features in this Advance-Design line of 107 models on 8 wheelbases are: All-round cab visibility with rear-corner windows • Unweld, all-steel cab construction • Super-strength frames • Specially-designed brakes • Hydrovac power brakes • Heavier, more durable springs • Ball-bearing steering • Wide base wheels • Standard cab-to-axle length dimensions • 12-color and two-tone options available.

*Fresh air heating and ventilating system and rear-corner windows optional at extra cost.

ADVANCE-DESIGN GEARSHIFT CONTROL

This new steering column truck gearshift in all models with 3-speed transmission provides new driver ease and convenience.

NEW IMPROVED VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE

Chevrolet's powerful truck engine, the world's most economical for its class, is now more durable—more efficient!

Democrats Back Truman
New York, April 16 (AP)—The state Democratic committee unanimously commended President Truman today in a resolution viewed as committing New York's 39 national convention votes to his candidacy. The resolution, drafted by Henry Wallace for accepting Communist support and putted the President on the back for his veto of the Taft-Hartley Act, his civil rights program and his "far seeing vision" in sponsoring the European Recovery Program. The committee differed with the President on Palestine policy, however, urging that partition of the Holy Land be effected without delay. The resolution was presented by Edward J. Flynn.

Condition Is 'Good'
The condition of Virgil Crisman, Jr., of 58 Ellenville street, was reported as "good" at Kingston Hospital today. He was admitted to the hospital Wednesday and treated for a minor laceration of the scalp and concussion after he was struck on the head by a sand bucket, according to a report by Dr. Theodore Novicki of the hospital staff.

Truck Driver Injured As Vehicle Hits Culvert

William James Strickland, 27, of LaVergne, Ala., suffered face and head injuries when the heavy tractor-trailer he was driving struck one side of the culvert near the Ulster-Greene county line on Route 9-W early this morning.

Strickland, who was driving the truck, owned by the Foster Brothers Manufacturing Co. of LaVergne, was headed north on the route when the accident happened at about 3:50 a. m. today, the state police at Catskill reported.

The driver was taken to the Catskill Memorial Hospital for treatment of lacerations and abrasions of the head and face. One lane of travel on the route was reported blocked for more than an hour after the accident.

State Trooper Harry Murray of the Catskill state police sub-station, investigated.

Stassen Runs Ahead In Nebraska Primaries

Omaha, April 16 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen carried 88 of Nebraska's 93 counties in this state's Tuesday primary. Thomas E. Dewey won the remaining five in the presidential preference primary, and Senator Robert Taft carried none.

Only four inaccessible ranch-county precincts of the state's 2,024 were missing. The Associated Press unofficial count was: Stassen, 80,238; Dewey, 83,843; Taft, 20,985; Senator Arthur Vandenberg, 9,931; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 6,775; Gov. Earl Warren of California, 1,793; and House Speaker Joseph Martin, 903.

Douglas (Omaha) county, the state's most populous, was among those won by Dewey, who was strongest in the cities. Stassen, however, won Lancaster (Lincoln) county, second most populous.

Girl Dies at Hospital
Clifton, N. J., April 16 (AP)—A battered, blood-soaked girl identified only as "Jenn" died today at St. Joseph's Hospital after what police described as an attack by a drunken companion whom she had met in a Paterson bar. The girl was pulled from the back seat of an auto on Route 6, Clifton, by two night-shift workers en route to a Caldwell tavern.

The girl and her companion were found in an intoxicated man in the car. Detective Sgt. John Bravinsky said police had taken into custody Walter Quinn of 32 Camden St., Paterson, and were holding him for questioning in connection with the girl's death.

Senate Studies Bill
Washington, April 16 (AP)—Pursuing its study of the Senate put the brakes on the 70-group air force bill today. Senators Bridges (R-N.H.) and Gurney (R-S.D.) said the $1,198,100,000 measure which whopped through the House by a 343 to 3 vote will get a close going over in the Senate Appropriations Committee. Bridges, a committee member, noted that the 70-group air force proposal added to the bill on the House floor is "highly controversial." He said he has not decided whether he will support it.

Fireman Rescued
Fireman Harry Richter and Frank Hoenbeck rescued a cat from a tree at Liberty street and Broadway about 7:45 p. m. Thursday night, the fire department reported. The cat had climbed high in the tree, making it necessary for the firemen to use 24 feet of ladders from the Wilkewick station aerial truck.

Efforts Underway For Phoenicia as All Year Resort

General civic improvements and plans for making the community a year-around resort were stressed at a dinner meeting of the Phoenicia Chamber of Commerce in the Phoenicia Hotel last night.

The organization now has a membership of 120, it was reported, and 87 attended last night's session. A campaign for additional membership will be continued.

The publicity committee is currently working on the preparation of circulars to be distributed through travel bureaus, it was reported, and projects planned for the improvement of the community were outlined.

These include the widening of Main street, construction of a bathing beach and tennis courts, additional facilities for the parking of autos, better garbage disposal and the placing of benches in the village.

Edward M. Huben of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. and Gerald Aronson of the New York Times resort bureau, addressed the group. William C. Weyman, president conducted the meeting.

Officers of the organization said they were impressed with the co-operation and enthusiasm of the membership. They announced that meetings will be held monthly and the next will be on May 13.

Members of the Pine Hill Chamber of Commerce were guests at last night's meeting.

Activities Announced For Local Boy's Club

Boy's Club activities for the week-end have been announced by Alexander "Pop" Fuhrman, director. The flying squadron will meet Saturday at 2 p. m. and leave for Aero Lake Airport to take further instructions in flying. Norman Markle will be in charge.

The Junior Stamp Club will meet and elect officers for the year Saturday at 2:30 p. m. Water marks and perforations will be the topic. Duplicates will be exchanged according to scout catalogue of 1948.

The Pee-Wees Baseball Team will play the Recreation Center team at Hasbrouck Park, upper diamond, at 1 p. m. Saturday.

The art and craft exhibit of the club is now showing at Castle Point Veterans' Hospital and will be closed April 20. No boys under 18 years of age can visit the hospital.

Reports Damage to Car

Dr. George F. Einterz of 143 Green street reported to police Thursday afternoon that his car was struck and damaged by an unknown vehicle, whose driver did not stop and identify himself. Dr. Einterz said his car was parked at about 431 Albany Avenue at the time, and its left front fender was damaged and the left front headlight broken.

Deputies to Return Prisoners to Walkkill

Deputy Sheriffs Arthur Brown and Arthur Smith left the sheriff's office this morning for Clinton Prison, Dannemora, to return three escapees from the Medium Security Prison at Walkkill, for trial here.

Two of the men to be returned, Leonard Rabideau and William LeClaire, escaped from the prison on the same day last July. LeClaire was caught in New York shortly after his escape, but Rabideau was at large until several days ago when he was apprehended in Saratoga.

The other, Terrence McGee, who escaped several weeks ago, was captured a few days after he left the prison.

Science Learns Cause of Hate Due to Disease

Scientists have found the reason why some people are prejudiced against others. It is a disease, they say, and it can be cured.

Scientists have made remarkable discoveries in the study of hate. They have found that hate is a disease, and it can be cured. The disease is called "hate" and it is caused by a lack of understanding and tolerance. Scientists believe that hate is a disease that can be cured by education and understanding.

for this cancer eating at the heart of our democracy. "As these findings begin to take shape, a pattern is emerging," the article declares. "Scientists are growing more and more certain that even when Anti-Semitism is found in an apparently successful person, it is a sign of psychological ill-health."

One of the results of the many surveys made of Anti-Semitism was the discovery that as a group a state prison population was the most intolerant.

The bitterest Anti-Semites tended to be such offenders, men jailed for such crimes as rape and the abuse of children. These emotionally warped criminals found an outlet in hating people of other races and religions.

Now that the scientists have found what causes intolerance they are hopeful that they will find a remedy. Generally they believe that the American goal of a better life for all is probably the surest cure for hate. That education leads to less intolerance and that sincere religious beliefs destroy intolerance.

American Food Aids Greek G.I.'s

Athens—American food is making the Greek soldier one of the best fed fighting men in the world.

Each soldier receives a ration of 3,800 calories daily from the American aid program and this is supplemented by supplies from his own government.

Everything that keeps the Greek army functioning is also supplied by the United States. Guns, ammunition, transport, pack animals, forage, uniforms and communications facilities are provided under the estimated $175,000,000 expenditure. Of this $80,000,000 is devoted to purely quartermaster supplies. The remaining $95,000,000 goes into items that provide firepower.

The best American mountain winter warfare clothing has been provided. Skis, ski boots, parkas and waterproof clothing makes the Greek winter fighters as well equipped as American mountain soldiers during the war.

Greek commando units already have been supplied with the American Army combat boots. Thousands more pairs are on order for field and mountain units in forward areas.

Hundreds of jeeps, command cars and trucks have increased the mobility of the army. Similar allocations of food, arms and other equipment have been made to the navy and air force.

Olive Bridge Methodist Circuit Services Given

The following services for the Olive Bridge Methodist Circuit have been announced by the Rev. A. W. Conklin, pastor:

Olive Bridge Sunday school, 10:15 a. m.; worship service, 11 a. m., with sermon by the pastor. The choir will render an anthem with Miss Lois Gray, organist, directing. Thomas Sahibcock also will render a violin selection. Tuesday, 8 p. m., prayer meeting. Friday, 7:30 p. m., Methodist Youth Fellowship will present entertainment program. The Rev. C. F. Ahrens, a Baptist minister recently returned from California, will give a program consisting of bell ringing, singing, readings and other features. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Samserville — Evening worship service, 7:30 o'clock. The young people's choir, under the direction of Miss Genevieve McLean, organist and minister of music, will lead in the congregational singing, and will also render a special selection. The pastor will bring the evening message. Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., Boy Scouts, Harry Kessler, leader, will meet in the Community Hall. Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., choir rehearsal at the church. Saturday, 2 p. m., Girl Scouts, Mrs. Roy Wynkoop, leader, will meet at the headquarters.

Regardless of church affiliation, both churches cordially invite the public to worship.

"Sweetest riding story ever told"?

SOMETIMES we get just a bit upset over our engineers.

A cautious bunch, their tendency toward understatement now and then lets us overlook some mighty good bets.

About all they wanted to say about their new Hi-Poised power was that it went much further than anything else they knew toward controlling engine vibration frequencies.

They let us say it would make engine sensation "practically imperceptible."

That it would do away with a lot of shudder that often passes for clutch chatter. That it would "have an effect" on riding softness and quiet.

Well! Folks have now had a chance to try out our '48 beauties with Hi-Poised power—and you should hear what they say!

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

"Sweetest ride of any car," they tell us.

"Such smoothness—it's unbelievable!" "What have you done?—It's wonderful!"

What we did was apply a wholly new system of engine mounting.

It's a system that suspends the engine, much as in a cradle. This leaves it free to rock, bob or "wag its tail" (as every engine must)—yet maintains firm control of such movement at all times and speeds.

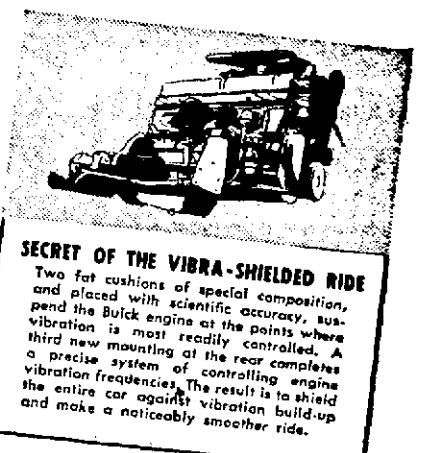

Add this to other things—big, soft tires on extra wide Safety-Ride rims; gentle coil springs on all four wheels; ample size and weight to master bounce and jitter—and what do you get?

A definitely "sweeter" feel to the whole car. Soft, level going—with firm, sure footing. Lightness—with positive and dependable control.

In a phrase—"the sweetest riding story ever told," as it has been put. Naturally, we'd like to have you size up our new Vibra-Shielded ride too.

After all, there's more to any car than meets the eye, even in this eye-winning beauty. And maybe this sweet and lovely ride is just what you've been waiting for.

Better see your Buick dealer, whether or not you have a car to trade—and get your order in.

SECRET OF THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Two fat cushions of special composition, and placed with scientific accuracy, suspend the Buick engine at the points where vibration is most readily controlled. A precise system of controlling engine vibration frequencies. The result is to shield the entire car against vibration build-up and make a noticeably smoother ride.

Editors Get Tip There Won't Be Universal Training

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Several hundred of the nation's leading editors got an "inside tip" last night that Congress will not enact a universal military training bill this year.

It came from House Republican Leader Halleck of Indiana, one of five lawmakers who addressed the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"The first emphasis undoubtedly will be on selective service," Halleck told the reporters when pressed for a prediction on U.M.T. legislation.

Although the House Armed Services Committee has approved a training bill, he said, the measure has not been cleared by the Rules Committee for a House vote and only about 40 members have asked for a floor showdown.

Halleck noted that it takes the signatures of 218 members to force such a showdown.

Halleck was joined in the general discussion of Congress by Senators Taft (R-Ohio), Eastland (D-Miss.), Taylor (D-Ill.) and Rep. Montgomery (D-Calif.).

Taylor stirred up a lively discussion by describing the American Press as "the greatest villain that ever inhabited the face of the earth when, day after day, they do everything that they can to stir up hatred."

Taylor, who expects to be Henry A. Wallace's third party running mate, said he does not believe war with Russia is probable or necessary and assailed what he called a Red smear going on in the Press.

How to remove barriers to free world movement of news was the topic for today's discussion by the editors.

Admits Getting Paid To Smuggle Aliens

Miami, Fla., April 16 (AP)—A ring alleged to have smuggled aliens into the United States by air was reported smashed today.

Arrest of a Miami flight instructor and three New York city Chinese was announced by the Department of Justice in Washington.

Frank Hornyak, in charge of the immigration border patrol office in Miami, said Edward William Murphy, 33, also known as T. A. Bass, had been arrested on a charge of smuggling and released in Spain last year.

Peter Chin Tsui, Chin Toy and Chin Lee Fow, arrested in New York on charges of conspiracy, will be brought here for prosecution, Hornyak said.

Murphy admitted, Hornyak said, that he had made two flights from Cuba to Chicago, Philadelphia and New York, bringing in 19 Chinese and four Europeans, for which he was paid $600 to $1,500 each. Hornyak said the alleged head of the smuggling ring had not yet been arrested but was under close watch by border patrol agents.

Rochester Truck Strike

Rochester, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—This city's major trucking and cutting firms were struck today by about 1,000 drivers and helpers seeking a 15-cent hourly wage increase. The walkout, climaxing several weeks of negotiations, came at midnight after members of Local 118 of the A.F.L. Teamsters Union rejected 503-31 an offer of eight cents an hour for all grades. Most of the city's store deliveries, moving van services and rail shipment transfers are involved.

Exchange Workers Return to Offices On Terms of U. S.

New York, April 16 (AP)—Striking A.F.L. financial workers voted yesterday to return to work at the New York curb exchange under terms of a federal mediation agreement.

The exchange's board of governors will vote today on the agreement, terms of which were not disclosed. The union, the A.F.L. United Financial employees, has sought a union shop and $9 to $15 weekly pay increases.

A union official said picket lines would be maintained pending the governors' action. The strike is in its 19th day.

The agreement affects 200 curb exchange employees. It does not affect a strike against the stock exchange, where the union says 950 workers are out. Stock exchange officials say 730 are on strike.

Stock exchange officials and union representatives were to meet with the federal mediators today.

Union officials said the curb settlement was ratified almost unanimously by about 400 union members at yesterday's meeting. The curb exchange had said the wage increases demanded by the union would average 17 per cent. It had countered with an offer of a 10 per cent cost-of-living bonus for one year. The union says wages now are $27 to $102 weekly.

In direct negotiation the curb exchange had turned down the demand for a union shop, under which all employees must join within a specified time after the contract is signed.

The cotton exchange on a modified union shop clause, providing that present non-union employees need not join but new employees must after a stated period.

Music Group Endorses Band Interest Concert

Music Appreciation Group of the Y.W.C.A. Women's Club met Thursday with Miss Ruth Smith, 85 Clinton avenue. The group voted unanimously to sponsor the concert to be given early in May at the high school. This concert is to stimulate interest in young people for band music. Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman will be the speaker and guest conductor. On behalf of the group, Mrs. Kenneth Kerkut, presented Mrs. Byron K. Catlin with a gift of records in appreciation of her generosity in loaning a violin for use of the program.

After the business session, Mrs. Charles Terwilliger and Mrs. Frank Meyers gave papers on Wagner. Mrs. Terwilliger described Wagner as the greatest composer of all time. A great ego-list, he justified his belief in himself. As a conductor at the age of 20 he was influenced by Schiller, Goethe, slightly by Nietzsche and Meyerbeer. He expressed his political ideas in music and was his own librettist.

One of his first operas was Rienzi, based on the historical novel of Bulwer Lytton. While in exile from Germany, he wrote Lohengrin. In 1861 he returned to Germany. In this second period he wrote Die Meistersinger, Tannhauser, The Ring of the Nibelung. His descriptive motifs in the Ring made interesting discussion and study. He moved to Bayreuth where The Ring operas were produced in a specially built theatre. This he hoped to be the permanent home for his last opera, Parsifal. He wrote 11 operas in all.

Mrs. Terwilliger said while petulant and exacting and small of stature, he possessed great charm and no one has ever lived who can so interpret the human emotions.

Mrs. Meyers spoke of the Wagner reactionary movement, of Wagner's dramatic style and redemption through love idea expressed in his motifs, the sources of the Ring legends, and Parsifal which the composer believed to be the crowning glory of all his works.

Recordings which were played to illustrate his music were the Rienzi Overture; Acts 1 and 3 of Lohengrin; the Overture and Elisabeth's Dream from Tannhauser; five music from Die Walkure.

As a finale to the program the gift records to Mrs. Catlin were played. They included Chopin's Etude No. 5 in G Flat Major and Etude No. 12 in C Minor (Revolutionary Etude); Malaguna and Pastorale by Leconte, played by Oscar Levant.

Hostesses at the tea which followed were Mrs. Raymond Craft and Mrs. Helen Fenger. Mrs. Raymond R. Gross poured.

HOSTESS OR WAITRESS OR BOTH?

The fact that personal selfishness is not always the best plan is illustrated in the following letter: "When I have as many as eight or ten guests at my table, how in the world can I be expected to sit down at the table with them? It is one constant jump-up-and sit-down. I, therefore, find it much simpler just to stay up and eat my main course while those at table are having dessert and coffee. But my out-of-town daughter (home for a visit) is horrified at this plan, which she never thought anything about when she lived at home. She now says: 'It just isn't done.' I agree with your daughter that it would be much pleasanter for your guests to have you sit at table. As a matter of fact, it ought not to be difficult to plan a dinner which will require least service. For example, if you serve your main course on a blue plate (which any girl would be most practical and put your own plate down last and then sit down, there is no reason why you should have to get up again until the end of the course. Even then, there would be just one plate apiece to remove. Then, crumb the table and carry in filled dessert plates.

Substitute Evening Clothes For Ushers

Dear Mrs. Post: Please tell us what you think of someone's suggestion that the men in our early evening wedding wear plain dark suits and starched white collars and black bow ties. They all can't provide tuxedos.

Answer: They would look very nice indeed. The most important point, of course, is that they all should look as much alike as possible. This is accomplished with identical collars, ties and boutonnieres.

Mrs. Roosevelt Is Ill in Hospital

Wife of President's Son Took Wrong Pills, Doctor Says

Beverly Hills, Calif., April 16 (AP)—Taking the wrong pills from a bedside box in the early morning darkness, sent Mrs. James Roosevelt to a hospital today for treatment for an overdose of sleeping pills, her physician reported.

Her condition was described as "good" several hours later.

Dr. Elmer Watson, family doctor for the wife of the president's eldest son, gave this account:

He said Mrs. Roosevelt, 32, awoke about 5 a. m. with a cold and a headache, reached for a box of pills on a bedside stand which she thought were headache tablets. Instead, she swallowed several sleeping pills. She quickly recovered, but her husband, who called police about 8 a. m. to take her to Kaiser Hospital, where Dr. J. J. Jones, a specialist in the treatment of nervous disorders, was called to the hospital but could not be reached for comment.

The police said Roosevelt told them his wife had taken the meds. Theresa Schneider, had been suffering from insomnia since the birth of their third child three months ago.

The baby, a daughter named Anna Eleanor, was born January 10. The Roosevelts also have two sons, James, two, and Michael, 16 months.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who was a nurse, cared for Roosevelt when he was ill at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., then came to California with him during his convalescence. They were married in April, 1941.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American commander in Europe, denied a report that he had ordered a sortie over Berlin by B-29's drawn from a 28-airplane group which arrived in the Western Occupation Zone yesterday.

In Washington, the navy allowed another glimpse at its planning. It disclosed the names of three submarines to be converted to subsurface

One will be converted to carry cargo, presumably weapons for use by commando troops. Another will become an underwater troop transport. And the third will be a radio "pocket submarine." The job of such a craft is to travel far out to sea and see what it can pick up on its radar scope in the way of activity telling of ship and air movements.

U.S. Lax With Its Military Plans, Said Nila Magidoff

Charges by the Soviet government that Robert Magidoff, American correspondent, spied for the U. S. Embassy in Moscow, recalls the visit of his wife, Nila, to this area in 1943 on a mission to promote better understanding in America of her homeland, Russia.

Mrs. Magidoff addressed three groups during her visit to Kingston at the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Henry L. Bibby at their Wall Street home. She spoke at Woodstock, Kingston High School, and at a luncheon in the Stuyvesant Hotel.

Although she touched on the social, economic and educational life in Russia, Mrs. Magidoff devoted a portion of her talks to her homeland's strict attitude in war preparations, and admitted that America is too lax in guarding military information.

Women in War Machine

Before the war, Russia trained 200,000 women pilots who later flew the planes providing medical supplies and carrying wounded soldiers back from the front. They also took part in civilian flying such as air mail but most important their work in removing the wounded saved the lives of many.

Sixty-three per cent of all the doctors and surgeons are women.

One woman 65 years old did as many as 25 operations a day. The artists and actresses there, as in America, gave their time to entertain the fighting men. Women worked in factories and defense jobs, too, and did this much longer than in America.

Magidoff Charges

Branded as False

Washington, April 16 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith has branded as "false" Soviet charges that Robert Magidoff, an American correspondent, spied for the U. S. Embassy in Moscow.

Smith cabled his denial to the State Department after Magidoff had been ordered out by the Soviet government. The newsman had been accused by Cecilia Nelson, his American-born secretary, of having sent secret military data to this country in official U. S. diplomatic pouches.

But Smith said in his cable: "I have insisted and have insured that diplomatic, military and naval personnel of this mission restrict themselves, implicitly and exclusively to legitimate and authorized sources of information."

"Mr. Magidoff informed me that he considered the allegations made by the Soviet citizen, Miss Nelson, and published in Izvestia, are entirely false."

"I can confirm the fact that they are false insofar as they relate to American Embassy personnel."

been more worried recently by Quirino's health than his own.

Thousands of Filipinos thronged the depot when the funeral train arrived from Clark Field, U. S. air base 50 miles northwest of Manila.

The crowd gasped at the sight of the train—a locomotive pulling several empty freight cars, a gasoline tank car, two third-class carriages containing the presidential guards, and Roxas' air conditioned first class coach.

Mrs. Roxas lifted the flag over the body and kissed the forehead of her husband.

The body lay in state at Malacanang Palace, which was closed to all but members of the family, the cabinet and close friends.

Quirino is strongly pro-American, as was Roxas. He negotiated the military assistance pact with the United States, although he insisted that all American bases be moved away from Manila.

Although he and Roxas worked together in the majority Liberal party, some politicians predicted the whole business would offer resignations and that some would be accepted.

Quirino, who also is foreign minister, has a gloomy world outlook. Correspondents said he told prewar President Sergio Osmeña yesterday at Cebu that another world war "in danger of breaking out before Christmas."

He said he urged Osmeña to emerge from retirement and take an active part in Philippine affairs.

7 to 7:30, followed by presentation of the colors; opening prayer; addresses by local clergymen and other speakers; closing prayer and retreat of the colors. Dancing will follow the rally.

It was the consensus of those present that another meeting be called for Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the American Legion Memorial Building on Wurts Street to elaborate on the plans for the rally.

In the meantime, Chairman Mayone and his staff intend to make personal contact with religious leaders and directors of organizations, whose contributions and support of the Americanism rally.

A veteran at last night's meeting, in his comment on the small turnout expressed the opinion that "Americans are too lethargic about demonstrating their faith in democracy. If this meeting were scheduled in a nearby community accused of Communist tendencies there wouldn't be standing room. The time has come for less talk and more action against the Red tide. America is threatened from the inside. Let's remember: What happened in Bogota can occur here. We don't want that sort of a riot to take place as a red to probe us into action. The proper attitude now can prevent bloodshed and property damage later."

sure American aid and their own resources are used efficiently.

The organization is empowered to make agreements "with non-member countries, with the United States Government and with international organizations."

Would Allow Pacts

This would allow, for example, trade pacts with Spain, South America or eastern European nations.

Unanimity is required for decisions, thus giving individual members veto power.

Nations failing to meet their charter obligations may be dropped. Those wanting to quit can do so by giving a year's notice. The way also is left open for other nations to join, but in such cases there must be unanimous agreement of the council.

Before signing, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault told the delegates the charter, or "convention of Paris," was unique "in the history of our continent."

"This is the first step in the formation of Europe," he said. "Our action is dictated only by the will to preserve our independence and our free civilization."

Soon after U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall first proposed the aid program last June, Russia and other eastern European countries turned down invitations to take part.

Colombian Union Ends Strike; Oil Fires Unconfirmed

Full Support to Be Given to Ospina Choice; Handbill Is Circulated

Bogota, Colombia, April 16 (AP)—The Colombian Workers Confederation proclaimed the end today of a general strike and the government moved to clean up wreckage from last week's bloody uprising.

The nation-wide strike accompanied the revolt, which caused some 300 deaths. Both were touched off by the assassination Friday of Liberal Party Leader Jorge Eliecer Gaitan.

A confederation spokesman said union chiefs met yesterday with Liberal Party leaders and agreed to give full support to Dario Echandia, a Liberal, who was taken into Conservative President Mariano Ospina Perez's cabinet as minister of government (interior).

(The U. S. State Department said it has unconfirmed reports there were serious oil refinery fires Wednesday in Colombia's Bucaramanga fields. There are a number of miles of Statat citizens and American interests there.)

(The department also said it has reports that a handbill signed "Communists Cell No. 1" was circulated in Buenaventura, 200 miles southwest of Bogota. The handbill said "Yankee imperialism wants to convert us into military, political and economic colonies.")

It was difficult to learn how much the strike harmed the national economy. So many businesses and industries were wrecked during the rioting that their operations stopped for several days.

Workers reopened in the battered capital yesterday and laborers were busy cleaning up the rubble-strewn streets. The bodies of many riot victims are believed still under the wreckage of burned-out buildings.

Health authorities issued orders to prevent an outbreak of epidemics. The sale of milk in tin containers was banned.

H. Edward Russell of St. Louis, Mo., in charge of the Caribbean zone of the American Red Cross, has brought seven tons of medical supplies into the city. He conferred with Colombian officials on plans for a registration system to determine the exact number of riot casualties.

Food Picture Brightens

The food picture brightened when the National Supplies Institute announced yesterday there were supplies available in Bogota to feed the populace for 30 days.

Some 40 tons of food have been flown in by the U. S. Army for delegates to the Pan-American Conference, disrupted by the revolt.

The conference has resumed sessions and now is meeting in a school building in a Bogota suburb.

Delegates agreed to include economic matters among those in a modified agenda. It was decided in committee to approve a simple treaty for economic cooperation among western hemisphere nations and leave the details to an economic conference scheduled to open next September.

The nation has been kept in a state of political crisis by the refusal of Gaitan's widow to permit his burial until Ospina Perez resigns the presidency.

Some of the 3,000 prisoners who escaped from Bogota's two jails during the riots are seeking readmittance. Prison officials said some of them claimed they were forced to escape by other prisoners.

The government believes some escaped prisoners helped destroy the Office of National Identification which contains the records of all criminals.

at the Catskill Memorial Hospital said "there was nothing unusual" about the delivery there by state police of blood plasma ordered from Post Graduate Hospital in New York.

Assistance of New Jersey and New York State Police was requested in making the delivery after it was learned at the hospital that the plasma was not put on a train in New York as scheduled, the superintendent said.

All of the hospital's plasma is received from the Post Graduate Hospital, New York, the superintendent reported, and similar assistance has been given by the state police on other occasions.

State police at Catskill reported this morning that they delivered the serum to the hospital at about 2 a. m. It was brought to the New York state line by New Jersey state police. Members of Troop K, New York State Police brought it to the Orange-Ulster county line and from there it was taken to the hospital by members of Troop G at Catskill.

The type was described as BRH, negative. The first request for police assistance was reported made through the East 35th Street precinct, New York. It was reported in the city that the plasma was supposed to have been put on a 12:05 a. m. train.

Los Angeles Gets 89 Degrees, Desert 103

Los Angeles, April 16 (AP)—Summer-like weather hit Los Angeles with a record yesterday.

The maximum was 89, the hottest April 15 in the past 100 years. It was the warmest here since last Oct. 31. The all-time record for the month was 100 on April 23, 1910.

Desert areas were considerably warmer. The Civil Aeronautics Administration station at Indio reported 103, highest since September.

The newspapers, meantime, featured pictures illustrating five inches of snow in Vermont.

Warning Is Given

"that Communist inspired agitators" would try to humiliate Marshall and other delegates on their arrival by "manifestation and possible personal molestation."

But Press Officer Lincoln White who gave newsmen the State Department's own version of its advance warnings described Liberty as a "very junior" employee with duties more or less of a house-keeping nature.

White said it seemed inconceivable that Liberty would have had jurisdiction to tell the C.I.A. that a message should be withheld.

Furthermore, the press officer emphasized that the department was getting its own reports and passing them along to C.I.A.

Says Revolution Surprise

Before either the State department or Hillenkoetter's versions of the advance tips became known, President Truman told his news conference yesterday that the Bogota revolution was a surprise to him.

He said he had heard there was unrest in Colombia and that there might be trouble. But he added he had no idea anybody was going to get shot.

Hillenkoetter confined his testimony largely to information he said his agency gave to the State department.

He told of message after message detailing Communist plans to make trouble. Among them one as late as March 30 advised that the "Colombian Communist party has agreed upon a program of agitation and mobilization against the United States, Chilean, Brazilian and Argentinian delegations."

Use of 'Veto Power'

Brown blew up when he heard that Liberty had asked C.I.A. not to relay the March 23 message to the department. The lawmaker said this was use of "veto power."

He exploded again when he learned from Hillenkoetter that all C.I.A. reports from foreign countries clear through the American ambassador.

"Congress set up C.I.A. to get information abroad vital to the welfare and security of this country, to evaluate it, and pass its opinions along to the proper officials," he told a reporter.

"Why should ambassadors be allowed to censor what the agents send in? How do they know what the real picture is?"

"Unless things are cleared up, there will be some changes in the law to see to it there is no more censorship of C.I.A."

city of Kingston and the Music Appreciation Group of the Women's Club have been added to the list of organizations endorsing the project.

"We hope to create increased enthusiasm for instrumental music in the Kingston school system," Mrs. Eighmey said "and we believe one method of accomplishing this purpose is to make it possible for interested citizens of Kingston to hear an authority such as Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman."

"Recently LeRoy Edelfelt and Robert Van Valkenburgh, instrumental music instructors in our schools, presented an Instrumental Musical Festival, which indicated excellent work on their part in this particular line of musical education. We believe they deserve all the help possible in furthering the fine work which they have undertaken, and the promotion of increased interest on the part of our citizens should be of assistance to these instructors."

CASTLETON'S Exquisite Pattern—

Ma Lin & Ching-Chih Yee

MADE IN U.S.A.

Ma Lin, named for the 12th Century Chinese master, with its deep warm colors and unusual treatment of design, is steeped in Chinese tradition. Created by Ching-Chih Yee, well-known contemporary artist for Castleton, it reflects the timeless loveliness of an ancient culture. . . Castleton's ivory-toned body, exquisitely translucent, brings out the beauty of the colors and fragility of the design. . . On the classically restrained Century Shape this unusual pattern will find favor not only with the conventional but also with the modern minded hostess, for Ma Lin is complementary to all periods and motifs.

Barone-Paterson Bout Tops April 22 B'nai B'rith Boxing Card

Jackie Thompson, Golden Gloves Champ, Also Slated to Appear

The B'nai B'rith boxing card for Thursday, April 22, looks like a carnival of champions and once the ring faithful get an eyeful of the program orders are expected to pour in for ringside seats at the municipal auditorium.

When Dr. Saul Goldfarb announced the list of bouts, he pointed out that the four-five rounders sparked with the names of amateur ring greats, all champions in their classes. "Every match rates top billing itself," the B. B. boxing chairman emphasized. "This show should be another sure-fire hit."

like the one Canadian team helped put on several weeks ago.

"We expect to sell out," he told a reporter, basing his statement on the calibre of the boxers engaged to compete.

Here is the array of five-round bouts:

Tony Barone, Schenectady, former welterweight contender for the National A.A.U. title, and considered the best 145-pounder in the Adirondack District, a popular local favorite vs. Jimmy Patterson, New York, Metropolitan A. A. champion, a clever boxer with a good punch.

Jackie (Spider) Thompson, Buffalo, National Golden Gloves

featherweight champion, popular with fans in past bouts here vs. Albert Hunter, New York, metropolitan champ and runner-up in the Nationals.

Johnny Saxton, New York, Metropolitan Golden Gloves lightweight champion vs. Harold Morton, Albany, Adirondack District Golden Gloves champion, who has a large following in Kingston.

Bobby Barnes, Buffalo, Niagara District featherweight champion vs. Ray Fields, Utica, recent conqueror of Canada's Clayton Kenny, and champion of the Adirondack Division in his class.

There will be three three-round preliminaries.

Clinton Avenue Trundlers Win 'Y' American Title

Clinton Avenue No. 3 waited until the last possible minute to shoot the works in the Y.M.C.A. Church American League but the trundlers managed to get within the deadline with a resounding sweep of three games over Trinity Lutheran No. 1 to cop the coveted title.

Harold Pine, anchor for the champs, highlighted the last ditch stand with a hefty 653 triple on smokes of 19-27-230. The team itself posted 2203 for a league record and also a high 794 team single which took top honors in the final night of kegling.

No. 3's sweep over the Lutherans ripped Clinton Avenue No. 1 who finished in the runner-up slot. No. 1 only managed to cop a pair from Comforter No. 2.

Although complete statistics have not been released, Don Weeks of the newly-crowned champs, walked off with the top average in the loop with a 174 plus mark. Complete averages will be announced.

Following Pine in the hit parade this week was Don Weeks who fashioned a 544 series and 214 singleton. F. Williams smashed 535.

Other good scores throughout the loop included Harold Osmer with 182-502; Bill Murray 204-512; Roland Post 214-570; Craig Plough 210-517; Art Carr 191-510; W. Davis 186-516; Bob Lane 195-501; Harold "Chick" Smith 181-503; Doug Kennedy 214-536; Bill Hornbeck 198-545; and Brown 208-540.

"Confusion Point" Maps

Virginia's highway department has announced plans to erect greatly enlarged highway map signs at "confusion points" for drivers throughout the state. The first has been erected near Williamsburg.

Three City Series Will Start Today

New York, April 16 (AP)—Pre-season baseball gets going in earnest today as city series open in New York, Chicago and Boston.

The inter league rivalries will be in full swing by tomorrow when the two St. Louis clubs and the Philadelphia teams begin their sets.

In New York it's a review of the 1947 World Series with the Yankees entertaining the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first of three games.

Frank Shea and Allie Reynolds will work for the Bronx Bombers while lefty Joe Hatten and Rex Barney toil for Brooklyn. The contest was scheduled originally for the Dodgers' Ebbets Field, but a rescheduling job there still is incomplete.

In Chicago it's the north side vs. the south side with the Cubs playing host to the White Sox for the first of three. Hank Borowy will start for the National Leaguers against Joe Haynes.

The Boston Red Sox vs. the Braves complete today's schedule.

Jansen Hurls Today

Owensboro, Ky., April 16 (AP)—Larry Jansen, expected to be the opening day pitcher for the New York Giants, will give his arm a final test today against the Cleveland Indians. Jansen has yet to go a full nine innings. Sheldon "Available" Jones, who blanked the Indians on four hits yesterday, will probably get the starting nod if Jansen doesn't impress today. Jones has gone the route twice.

Champs, Runners-Up in 'Y' Cage League

Marie Kelekian Hits 262-605 In Colonial Women's League

What happier way of celebrating one's six-months wedding anniversary than by stepping out and blasting new records in bowling.

The idea appealed to Mrs. Marie Kelekian of Perry's Taxi Wednesday night and the pretty young ladyoff with the swinging gate approach decided to do something about it.

She crashed a sensational 262 in the middle game for a new Colonial Women's League record and then with all kind of pressure on her, Marie posted 178 in the final game for a 605 series. This was her first 600 triple and of course the highest single game in a relatively short bowling career.

The 262 eclipsed the former record of 257 held by Rose Schatzel, who is supposed to know a few things about bowling.

Marie's big league pinning carried Perry's Taxi to a smashing upset over the Mayorettes for three straight games. The Taxi girls posted a tremendous 927 in the middle game. The two game loss dumped the Mayorettes out of first place as the runnerup Central Recs won a 2-1 decision over Smith Avenue Storage.

Schatzel Hits 609

Rose Schatzel in her final tunning up before the trip to Dallas, Texas, smashed 224-202-183-609, her fourth "600" of the season to pace the Recs against Smith Avenue. Rita La Rocca rolled 210-523 and Marge Jansen was a jewel of consistency with 187-168-178-533. Evelyn Moore shot 180-528 for the losers.

Other good scores were E. Bruck's 180-506; Charlotte Lapine 204-201-175-580.

Sicklers Wallop Chez Emile in Finale, 65-37

Ruzzo, Thomas Murphy Top Club

Proving that their recent surprising victory over Dawkins Favorites in the Mid-Hudson tournament finals was no fluke, Sickler's Delivery wound up local basketball action Thursday night with a convincing 65 to 37 victory over Chez Emile in the finals of the Y League Shaughnessy playoffs.

Thus the curtain finally came down on one of the longest court seasons ever experienced in Kingston. The year in passing produced possibly the most spectacular cage campaigns highlighted by Kingston High School's unbeaten quintet, the post-season win over Mount Pleasant in Saratoga Springs; Sickler's upset triumph over the Favorites in the Mid-Hudson tournament and now last night's climax victory for Len Sickler's five.

Sickler's, beaten by Chez Emile in the finals of the regular schedule, reaped revenge in nothing less than a final victory. It was a tight ball game in the first half with the scoreboard only showing a difference of eight points at half time as Sickler's led, 24 to 16.

Thomas, Ruzzo Shine

Displaying a tremendous passing attack highlighted by the fancy work of Al Thomas and Jackie Ruzzo, Sickler's looked tough from the start. Thomas, cavorting in the backcourt, pumped in 14 points while Ruzzo topped both clubs in the individual scoring parade with 19 markers.

Andy Murphy, stellar guard for Sickler's, enjoyed another of his good nights by playing a top brand of ball in the backcourt and also bucketed 18 points to lead in the scoring attack. Another star for the winners was big Tommy "Gawke" Maines who held down the pivot post and contributed six points. The former Syracuse grid star was a star in his own on the defense and set up numerous scoring chances by getting the rebounds.

McElrath Shakes 11

"Fink" McElrath, forward for the beaten quintet, led Chez Emile with 11 points. "Icky" Houghtaling followed with 10.

Driver Training Praised

Driver training and safety education in Massachusetts schools has been credited by the state's Registrar of Motor Vehicles with cutting personal injury accidents involving 16 and 17-year-old drivers from 1203 in 1945 to 642 in 1947.

Record Field Set For Indianapolis

Indianapolis, April 16 (AP)—Sixty seven cars, the biggest entry list since 1931, had been nominated today for the 32nd annual 500 mile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway May 31.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw said he expected several other entries postmarked before the deadline at midnight last night and the final total might equal the all-time high of 72 in 1931.

"That means there will be a terrific speed battle in the qualifying trials next month," Shaw said, "because only 33 of the fastest cars will be eligible to start the race for cash prizes of approximately $180,000."

Nineteen of the entries have supercharged engines. The others include a two-cylinder steam car, some four-cylinder cars, five six-cylinder cars, 18 eights, one twelve and one sixteen.

No foreign drivers have been nominated but seven foreign cars are on the list.

Macheth Tops King Dorsett In Camden Park Opening

Camden, N. J., April 16 (AP)—The Kentucky Derby stock of J. M. Roebing's Macheth has taken a decided boost but whether he goes in the run for the roses at Churchill Downs May 1 likely will depend on his showing in a longer race.

The chestnut colt came from far off the pace in the home stretch to win the six furlongs of the Camden handicap at Garden State park's opening yesterday.

The margin of victory over the seven-year old King Dorsett was only the slimmest of noses but the manner in which Macheth achieved the triumph impressed the crowd of 17,348. He had only one horse beaten coming out of the huckstretch but under Jimmy Stout's fine ride got up in time to take down the purse of $12,675.

The racing strip yesterday was rated only good but Macheth stepped the distance in 1:12 under the hood to win his first start of the season.

The fans, attending the earliest opening in these parts, didn't invest their money as readily as last year when Garden State's inaugural was Aug. 25.

They sent $1,262,459 through the pari-mutuel machines. On last year's opening day 18,336 wagers paid $1,515,744.

Under the new state law, which increases the bite taken out of the betting from 10 to 12 per cent, the state and track split evenly $151,495. A year ago the track took six per cent and the state four per cent of $151,574.

Among the more exciting developments of the week-end will be the appearance of Kingston bowlers in national competition on widely scattered fronts. . . . While four squads are pouncing away at the mops in Detroit, Rose Schatzel will be in Dallas, Texas, seeking the W.I.B.C. Individual Sweepstakes crown. . . . Warner weather should bring out golfers in droves, while baseball and baseball squads will be tuning up all over the terrain.

Baseball by the Carload:

If quantity is ever a substitute for quality then the baseball picture should be adequate. . . . Tommy Davitt is hopping up the City League picture in true Billy Rose fashion. . . . Among other accommodations there will be a radio broadcast, a brass band, free soda for the kids and two or three umpires. . . . Andy Murphy and Ed Reilly are hooked up in promoting the proposed tri-county American Legion semi-pro league, while Joe Hoffman is ready to start lining up a roster for the Kingston Colonials, successors to the Kingston Recreationers for after-dark contests at municipal stadium. . . . The Colonials are pledged to a 25-30 game program against heavy semi-pro opposition. . . . Softball will be in the capable hands of Ed Reilly who for several years was known as the Ned Irish of softball in Port Jervis. . . .

Flotsam and Jetsam:

The major league openings on Tuesday find the St. Louis Cardinals solid local favorites in the National League. There is some sentiment for the Dodgers and Giants but like average Gus Fan, the railbirds think there is too much confusion in the Brooklyn ranks and the pitching staff is questionable. . . . The Giants it seems just don't have any pitching. . . . There is strong support for the Boston Red Sox in the American League where Sox pitching has to improve to match the all-around fitness of the Yankees. . . . The National League race is tough for the crowd to see but the Ed Stanky and Dixie Walker trades hurt Brooklyn remains to be seen but recent races are strictly one-way affairs. . . . You may plan a couple of years in advance and put a dollar sign on aging muscles, such wizardry being attributed to the pious Mr. Mickey, but this year's pennant is won with this year's ball players. . . . The Gus Bag of the Gowanys may learn that before the season has gone too far. . . . Stanky is a pennant winning ball player and we think Walker, the People's Choice, has another year of baseball left. . . . He would have been a handy man to have around while Duke Snider, the new "phenom," learned more about that mysterious "strike zone."

Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick must feel very happy when he reads that his old Kingston Colonial "ringer," Harry Harper is running for United States Senator in New Jersey. . . . Harper, a southpaw, who pitched for the Boston Red Sox, Washington Senators and Yankees, was "imported" for the famous Colonial-Tannersville series.

Mary Wyant, Emerick Ladies' League president, is in big demand in the bowling banquet circuit following a classic two-line speech at the Rose Schatzel testimonial.

If there is such a thing as dying with your boots on, then ponder the case of Jack Sutherland, the Pittsburgh Steeler coach. . . . Here was one of the all-time coaching greats who never had a chance to kick out from behind life's end zone.

One of the happiest young bowlers we ever saw . . . Mario Kelekian following a 282-605 blast for a new Colonial Women's League record. . . . That first big score and 600 series are the top thrills in a bowler's career. . . . Like your first sweetheart, you seldom forget your first 600.

MULIGAN MIKE SAYS: "Leisure Coats Coming Down," asserts a home-town ad. Ah, well, just so long as it isn't workaday pants, instead!

The female of the peregrine falcon, used for centuries in hunting, is much larger and fiercer than the male of the species.

A single city was selected for both major U. S. parties in 1881, 1932, 1944 and 1948.

Bowlers Fete Rose Schatzel

Good Luck OUR CHAMP ROSE SCHATZEL.

The Kingston Women's Bowling Association gave a surprise testimonial and farewell dinner to Rose Schatzel this week prior to her departure for Dallas, Tex., where she'll enter the second annual W.I.B.C. Individual Sweepstakes tournament next Monday. Mrs. Schatzel also will roll in the regular W.I.B.C. nationals Saturday night with the Aurora, Ill., squad.

In the above photo seated from left are Reta Frederick, secretary of the K.W.B.A., Evelyn Dolson, president of the K.W.B.A., Mrs. Schatzel, and Marge Trowbridge, treasurer of the association. Standing in the same order are Emma Kubicek, sergeant-at-arms; Chissie Wilson, vice-president; and Mary Wyant, president of Emerick Ladies' League. Mrs. Schatzel left for Dallas Thursday. ## P.A.C. to Probe Records Of Politicians First

New York, April 16 (AP)—The New York area CIO Political Action Committee declared last night that it "will not be bound to any candidate or party" in this year's election.

At the same time, the P.A.C. said it intends to fall in line with policies of the national and state CIO organizations, which have gone on record against Henry A. Wallace's third party.

Another New York group, the Greater New York CIO Council, earlier had rejected the national CIO's policy on Wallace, though it did not endorse the third party movement.

The newly-organized P.A.C. organization said it will examine "the background and platform of all candidates" with special reference to repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law and all other anti-labor legislation.

The P.A.C. meeting last night drew 175 representatives of CIO unions in the New York area. The Greater New York CIO Council claims 600,000 members in the metropolitan region.

PECULIAR FIRE ALARM
Atlanta, April 16 (AP)—A misdirected drink of water brought out every piece of firefighting equipment in downtown Atlanta last night, and threw almost everyone into a dither at Mammoth Grady Hospital. Later investigation revealed that an ambulance driver, bending over a drinking fountain, got his drink in the eye instead of his mouth, reached for a towel, but pulled a fire alarm box instead.

Final Hours of Campaign Are Begun by Italian Parties

Rome, April 16 (AP)—Italy entered the final hours of a crucial parliamentary election campaign today with Communists scrambling to regain lost support. Campaigning ends at midnight and voting starts Sunday morning at 8.

Interior Minister Mario Scelba's security forces were watchful lest—as constantly rumored—last-minute Communist moves materialize, especially in the left north. Police made displays of strength in several sections to demonstrate they are ready to keep order.

Violence dotted the country last night as traditionally volatile Italian tempers flared. Premier Alcide De Gasperi, who has worked tirelessly against the Communists and for his Christian Democrats will end his long campaign tonight with a speech at Naples. Communist chief Palmiro Togliatti, whose audiences have dwindled recently, also takes a last crack at the Christian Democrats—and American aid—tonight.

Togliatti's drumming against the Marshall plan as a program to enslave Italy has lost its early beat and the Communists have slowly and surely lost ground. Last night Togliatti failed to hold full attention of a crowd of 60,000 in Naples. Many left before he was through talking.

In Washington, the U. S. State department is sure the Communists are beaten. Officials who have followed the campaign said last night that Russia's rejection of the western proposal to return Trieste to Italy killed the last faint hope the Communists had. That, plus western power sponsorship of Italy for membership in the United Nations were looked on as clinchers against the leftists. Some think the Communists won't get more than 30 to 35 per cent of the vote; possibly less.

HARDER TO CONVINCE THEM
Togliatti and his party have found it harder and harder to convince the Italians they should be against American aid in the face of hundreds of American ships arriving with aid for membership in the $5,300,000,000 European Recovery Bill by the U. S. Congress was considered by many as a body blow to the Communists.

Premier De Gasperi, with the proof of the pudding before many hungry Italians, has contended Italy needs American aid for economic survival. He has plunged away at the Communists, and last

No Agreement, Drivers Of Buses Still Strike

Nyack, N. Y., April 16 (AP)—A bus drivers' strike affecting about 40,000 commuters in Rockland county, N. Y., and Bergen county, N. J., entered its 13th day today following a meeting yesterday which failed to bring about any agreement.

The meeting was attended by representatives of the 180 bus drivers and officials of Rockland county and of the five struck lines.

The striking drivers, members of the Rockland Lodge of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, seek a 30-cent hourly wage increase. The present scale is $1.20 per hour.

The bus companies involved are the Rockland Coaches, Spring Valley Motor Coaches, Rockland Transit Corp., Hill Bus Company and Tappan & Nyack Bus, Inc.

The buses operate between New York city and the two counties. Traffic in very small quantities is said to have a very beneficial effect on farm stock.

Australia Deports U. S. Negro Boxer

Sydney, April 16 (AP)—An American Negro was deported today as a prohibited immigrant under Australian law. His white Australian wife saw him off at the dock.

The Negro, Clarence Olin Reeves, who boxes professionally under the name of the "Alabama Kid," has been in Australia 10 years. He said his father runs a cabaret in Columbus, O.

Reeves originally came to Australia for three fights. He was ordered to leave late in 1947 but was granted a reprieve.

Mrs. Reeves, 23, told newsmen she would follow her husband to America and live with him in Columbus. She said the Australian Government will pay her passage and that of their children. Ray 20-months, and Kay, three months, Reeves embarked on the former Army Transport Marine Phoenix bound for San Francisco.
